MONDAY, Feb. 29. On a limited volume of trading to-daytransactions on the Stock Exchange being the smallest in number for any day but one in over three years-prices in the security market scored a moderate advance. The market might have been called strong, were it not that the word "strong" implies activity, and of activity to-day there was none. Many of the large commission houses reported that the business done by them was in only a few hundred shares of stock. News from abroad was no different than it has been recently, developments in the Orient being unimportant markets continued to the effect that matters there were in a state of 'strain, although for the moment no great apprehension was felt. In the financial settle ment on the Paris Bourse, which began to-day, various firms, it is said, have had to be "helped," and there were small failures reported in Berlin, Hamburg and other European cities. Selling of securities for Continental account on the London exchange was said to be fairly heavy; but dealings of foreign houses in this market during the day were estimated at less than 5,000 shares-a rather eloquent commentary on the small way in which the depression abroad affects financial matters here and the fortified financial position in which our market stands. Of the present dulness in the market the long postponement of the decision in the Northern Securities case is, perhaps, as great a cause as any. Expectations that the decision would be handed down by the United States Supreme Court to-day were again disappointed. Foreign exchange was a little firmer to-

'ay, the grain market was weak, cotton was strong, and the banks gained heavily from the Sub-Treasury; but all these incidents attracted little notice. The large reduction of $924,000 in the Eric Railroad's net earnings for January, announced on Saturday evening, was generally regarded as partly explaining the recent weakness in the stock market of the Erie shares. As weather conditions in the present month were little better those than for January, it is probable that the Erie's February net earnings will also decrease considerably; but in this the road will be little worse off, apparently, than its leading competitors. The present winter has been more severe upon the railroads than any known for years. It cannot be said that the news that the voting trust now controlling the Erie will be continued for another period of five years if a sufficient number of holders of the Erie stock manifest their willingness to have it continued, had any appreciable influence to-day as a market factor. The company's shares, as possessing voting power, would undoubtedly be considered more valuable than if stripped of this attribute; but it is manifestly the desire of those most largely interested financially in the Erie property to take no step that would interfere with the present wise and conservative management of the company's affairs. The Chesapeake and Ohio's net earnings for January, as reported today, decreased $92,802 and the Susquehanna and Western, $62,980; while the Atlantic Coast Line's net for the month increased $56,518 and the Union Pacific's, $308,341. Comment of an unfavorable character, so far as there was comment of any character at all, centred upon the announcement that some of the Western announcement that some of the Western railroads were meeting the cuts in freight Am Lin Oil... 9 rates on various commodities besides Am Lin Oil pf 27 grain, made by the Chicago and Great Am Loco ... 223, Western Railway, and upon the rumor that the Gould interests had appeared as that the Gould interests nati appeared and direct sponsors for the Western Pacific Railroad Company, the latter being a railam Smelt'g. 47% Nat Lead ... 14% Nat Lead pf. 82
